We are pleased to announce we are a finalist in the Food Northwest Awards 2009 in no less than 2 categories - International Trade and Innovation. Hopefully, we will pick up an award on the 25th June when the presentation ceremony is held. Thank you to all our customers for your continued support.

We have a link to the Food Safety Week web site this month and we are running a promotion on our Stapless Staplers.

Food Safety Week

This year's event starts on Monday 15th June. The theme for this year is focussing on people over 60 and the need for safe storage and handling of food in the home. The reason for this is the recent sharp rise in cases of listeria within this age group.

Stapless Stapler Promotion

Don't get caught out on food safety audits with documents and records stapled together. This will result in a non-conformance due to the potential physical hazard from the staples. We have reduced the cost of our stapless stapler to £3 (previously £4.45) So take advantage of this promotion running for the next month.
